Piggy-back basketball, shown here at jump ball, is one of the spirit week events.

Karla Good laughs after awarding Mr . Weaver the pie-in-the-face prize.

And they're off! The grocery-cart races start with a bang as Mr. Frazier supervises.

RAIDER SPIRIT

Bonfires, grocery-cart races, piggyback basketball, food-eating contests and male cheerleaders were all a part of the football and basketball Spirit Weeks at Northridge. The cheerleaders and the students rallied together to cheer the home team to victory. Many events took place earlier in the week also. The teachers staged a mock football game in which Northridge won despite the fact that the win was somewhat dishonorable. Piggy-back basketball and the food-eating contests were the highlights of Spirit Week. Grocery-cart races took place to stir up the spirit of the students. Once again, Spirit Week was a success.

Is it in? The shot goes up by sophomores Faith Shalaty and Gary Cripe.

Mr. (or is it Mrs.?) Lukens gets carried away by the excitement of Spirit Week.

Rex Miller appears to be enjoying his ride to the Homecoming game.

STARRY NIGHT

On the magical Homecoming night the Raider football team defeated the Angola Hornets to make the night perfect. Three candidates competed for the title, Homecoming Queen, Tami Hawkins, Lori Robinson, and Michelle Erickson. Michelle was later crowned queen. In the float competition the Juniors stole the show with their theme "Locomotion." The Sophomores came in second with "Puttin" on the Blitz." "Flashdance, Oh What a Feeling," was the theme of the Seniors float in third place. The Freshmen class float was "Raider Touch." Homecoming Night was truly the highlight of the football season.

Right: Sophomores couple Kelly McKibben and B.J. Ludwig are a little excited and nervous waiting at halftime.

Below: Seniors Michelle Erickson, Lori Robinson, Dawn Kreigbaum, and Steph Keck work on the class float with the theme "Flashdance, Oh What a Feeling."

Left: Sprinting to action are the mighty Raiders.

Middle Left: Getting a ride in a fancy Corvette is just the first of the honors awaiting soon-to-be-crowned queen candidate Michelle Erickson.

Below Middle: In stately repose, Queen Candidates Michelle Erickson, Lori Robinson, and Tami Hawkins and their Court, Gretchen Vollman, Kelly McKibben, and Tracey Williams.

The cast of M*A*S*H celebrate before opening night.

TROOP TEN-SHUN

Army green and dog tags — all part of being involved in the production MASH. The play was directed by Mrs. Augustine and student director Susi Ross. The actors, actresses and crews combined to produce a great performance. AT EASE!

With clipboard in hand, Kathy Scheuneman discusses the finer points of production with Tami Hawkins.

Seeking the comfort of Nancy (Shayne Miller), Frank Burns (Don Fair) slowly goes insane.

Principal cast members and student director Susi Ross read through the lines of the play during its early stages.

Looking into each other's eyes, Tami Hawkins and her date Todd share a close moment.

Prom Queen Michelle Erickson and King Sam Hoover

Even tuxes don't stop Kevin Rice and graduate Brent Cooper from boogieing down.

MY LOVE

Soft music and swirling skirts ushered in the 1984 Prom. The Juniors played host to the Seniors, holding the Prom at the Marriott Hotel in South bend. The evening began with dinner. After that and a very short program presented by the Juniors, the dance began. Near the end of the dance the King and the Queen, Sam Hoover and Michelle Erickson, were crowned as well as the Prince and the Princess (Rich Troyer and Korie Bontrager). In the end the evening became one of the most unforgettable events of the season.

Dressing up adds to the fun of rock and rolling the night away.

Robin Biro, Charles Wiederman, Korie Bontrager and her date step lively to the music.

CLASS

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Foreign languages are a whole new world to some students. With the help of Mr. Frazier (German) and Mr. Woodworth (Spanish), students can become familiar with and learn to speak another language. Although there is plenty of hard work, in the form of translations, grammar drills, and dictations, these classes can be fun too. Parties and games are certainly high points during the year.

Herr Frazier and Rich Troyer are given a friendly "helloo" by Paula Mast, while Terri Moore stays to chat.

Rebecca Falb models Herr Frazier's cowboy hat while Rhonda York, Terri Yoder, Holly Bowlby, Tammy Boyer, Rich and Paula comment.

World Lit? As usual Brian Kolka, Dan Falb, and Eric Vollman would rather con Augustine into doing other things.

Whatever it is, it's Exciting! At least Sam Hoover, Kristy Walters and Scott Kauffman think so.

Who's the dunce in the hat? It's Mr. Wilkey and it's his birthday. The students got out of class for the party.

A camera! Anything is more exciting than Advanced Comm. to Kirby Rhodes and Paul Johson.

KLARN IT!!

"Shostak's due!" "Quick let me copy it!" "Mr. Weaver what do you mean life isn't always fair?" L.A. and Social Studies are not the most exciting classes but those favorite teachers made those classes a bit more bearable. Although there was a lot of work there was some learning done. Weaver's laws have made us all better people and shostak helped on those S.A.T.'s Remember — Econ will help, research papers won't; and never play leap frog with a unicorn!

Davenport College Business Competition Competitors; Row 1; Kris Zimmerman, Korie Bontrager, Tracey Williams, Wendy Stout. Row 2; Miss VanVranken, Justine Troyer, Lynette Sutton, Shiela Shrock, Rose Borntrager, Tammy Billings, Mary Tarr.

Even Accounting II can be dangerous! How did Sam get that black eye? Did Derek punch him? Did his calculator blow up? The world will never know.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

No, we're not talking about Men At Work! Even though the people we are talking about use instruments too. These instruments revolve around numbers and words instead of music. Under the terrific guidance of Mr. Modlin and Miss VanVranken (lovingly known as Miss V), students prepare for the real world.

Now ladies — is this a gossip hour or class time? Rose Borntrager and Marci Troyer would rather gossip!

Mr. Macho, John E. Miller, tries to keep his numbers straight.

These kiddies have just finished their milk and cookie break! Steve Cross goes back to work as the never-ending jabber of Dawn Kriegbaum goes on.

Are you sure you were doing math? Mr. Von-Gunten wonders just what those figures are that cover Patty Berry's and Jenny Packer's paper are.

Relaxing in the few seconds left before class, Michelle Erickson lounges while Tonya Cook takes the opportunity to prepare for class by sharpening her pencil.

NUMERICALLY SPEAKING

Believe it or not but mathematics is important! Without math a person lacks the training needed for almost all potential careers. Computer skills are becoming increasingly more important tools in society. The Northridge math teachers work hard to keep up with the ever-changing subject and try to stay abreast of the many new ideas. Through them students have a great opportunity to expand their horizons and knowledge also.

Whatever is on that screen, it appears to have totally engrossed Mike Ingold.

Mr. Hartzler explains a point during Prob & Stat while the class rapidly scribbles notes.

TEST TUBES AND BUNSEN BURNERS

Science is a major part of the curriculum at Northridge with Chemistry and Physics highlighting the College Prep program. There were two new teachers added this year, Mr. Coe and Mr. VanLue. Both have been a great asset to the science department.

Freshmen still don't know the meaning of work. They would rather play games.

Given some free time, these freshmen choose to gossip and to study.

Get to work! Amy VonGunten seems to be easily distracted.

Caught in the act! Mr. Willig is caught making a bomb to blow up his students.

What is going on? These students are grinning too much to actually be watching a film and doing a lab.

MUSIC MANIA

They played, marched, danced to entertain their audience, they're the music maniacs. Concert Band, Pitt Band, Pep Band, and marching along with the auxiliary unit delighted listeners with their performances. In addition to that, they competed in contests winning many medals. The vocal musicians also contributed to the enjoyment of the audience with their choir concerts. The three choirs, Concert, Freshman, and Sound of Friends, also participated in contest and captured numerous medals.

Opposite Top: The Raider Marching Band completes their first song, "Chain Reaction."

Opposite Bottom: Marching across the field, the band gets ready to perform their contest show.

Top: Frosty the Snowman, played by Cindy Larue, dances around town at the Christmas Choir Concert.

Bottom: Bundled up to keep warm, Maribeth Groves and Michael Hurst sing by the sleigh.

HARD WORK PLUS DEDICATION EQUAL SUCCESS

Auxilliary with only twelve members, has had one of their best years for performances. The squad has put in numerous hours of their own time and worked hard to "Dare to be the best." The members of the Sound of Friends have also shown their dedication and excellence in their performances. They have been in concerts with the other N.H.S. Choirs, tours of Middlebury Community Schools, banquets, and many other places.

Right: Being a member of the rifle corps means a lot of hard work and self discipline to perform the best. Even if a drop occurs, the performance must go on without showing frustration as Kim Sevison is here.

Below: The Sound of Friends put in a lot of time planning choreography and then practice it with the song but, it all pays off to see that the audience is enjoying them and they have a lot of fun performing.

Top: The auxillary did their best to plan and perform an exciting show for contest. A combination of flags and poms were used for the hit song "Flashdance."

Center: Mike Weaver played the role of a tattle tale in a skit during the Christmas Concert.

Left: The kickline was a favorite part of the contest show for both the auxillary and the audience.

CRAFTS

Home Economics and Industrial Arts are the practical arts. These classes help a person learn a skill or trade that may or may not become their life's occupation. Although these classes are a lot of work, they are also a lot of fun. Finally, what can be better than the sense of accomplishment when one has made something that looks professional.

Getting grades is usually not a happy time. Kathy Ellis and Sharon Dirk prepare for the worst as Mr. Snyder looks them up.

O.K. whats the excuse this time? Mrs. Snyder is all too familiar with Jeff's excuses.

All decked out for the end of school, Kim Hammon smiles into the camera.

Freshmen will look for any excuse not to work. Bruce Krueger decides to have some fun in front of the camera.

When learning everyone needs some help. Mr. Kauffman helps Jeff Hanson understand drafting.

Exhausted after the last play, Dan Falb lies down to take a breather.

A COMEBACK YEAR

Although the final 1983 football season was only 3-7, the season was successful. For the first time in several years the team won two consecutive games. Under the new cluster system the Raiders won 2 of 3 of their cluster games. The Most Valuable Player was Dan Falb. JV MVP was Brian Checkley and Freshman MVP was Bryan Hackett.

Running down the pep line, Terry Shrock is ready to win.

"... and you see, this guy was 6'2"." Dan Falb is telling Terry Shrock what really happened in the play.

GIRLS WHO WORK TOGETHER

It takes more than good spikers, servers, and the rest of the players to make a good team. Teamwork is what it's all about. Each girl works with the help of the others and Coach Jeanine Roberts. With that in mind the team ended the season with an excellent record.

The most valuable player for this year was Michelle Erickson.

During practice Michelle Erickson shows her stuff as she bends those knees, stretches her arms, and bumps the ball for a great set up.

Hoping for a basket, Charles Wiederman jumps up to tip the ball in.

Jim Hackett battles his Westview opponent for control of the ball.

THE END OF AN ERA

When the 1983-84 boy's basketball season ended, it was not just the end of just another season. The end of the season marked the end of Irv Pratt's extensive basketball coaching career. During his time at Northridge, becoming the only coach Northridge has ever known, Pratt developed a reputation as one of the finest coaches in Elkhart County. Finishing just one game shy of 200 wins at Northridge, his presence will be sorely missed. Wiederman, Hackett and Slabach earned MVP honors for their season of play.

Retired Coach Irv Pratt yells plays to his team.

Skillfully handling the ball, Troy Baughman maneuvers past his guards.

Rory Campbell goes up to get the rebound after the ball is shot.

STEPPING OUT IN STYLE

The Cross Country team had a good season this year with a record of 8-11. Derek Hubartt, the only senior this year, was named Most Valuable Runner. He placed first or second in over half of the meets, and went on to place 16th at Regional. Freshman, Craig Pratt, proved also to be a valuable member of the team, running as well as the experienced upperclassmen. With a team like this and only one senior, imagine what next year will be like.

Concentration and determination to win can be seen on Derek Hubartt's face as he strives to do his best.

MAT MAGIC

The wrestling team performed well this year. Many matmen qualified for regional. The entire team was led by Jeff Graber who won Most Valuable Player honors.

Thinking his next moves out carefully, Larry Roberts tenses up, ready to wrestle free from his opponent.

John E. Miller's face shows the exertion as he pushes his opponent closer to a pin.

GIRL'S B-BALL

The girls took the court by storm this year, playing some very close and exciting overtime games. The team had excellent senior leadership. Michelle Erickson was MVP and played a large part in many of the Lady Raider victories.

"Our game plan: Hit 'em in the gut, grab the ball and run!" Mr. Weirich offers encouragement to his players.

Is this basketball or dominoes? Boy — Janice Lang spends a lot of time on the floor.

Justine Troyer fights her opponent as she tries for a basket.

Yeaaaaaaaa! Jean Hostetler goes wild over the win.

BATTER UP!

The baseball team, under the coaching of Ned Miller, ended an excellent year last season. The Raider batters broke the previous school record for most games won in a single season. The 1984 squad finished the year with sixteen wins. Leading the team were the hot bat of Jason Stutzman and the superb pitching performances by Mark Slabach and Chris Kuehn. Congratulations to the team for their record-breaking year!

Are you sure this play will work? John Cimmiyotti doesn't look too positive.

FIRST-YEAR SUCCESSES

Under the coaching of Dave Willig, the 1984 Softball team completed their first year of play very successfully. The Raider team finished the season with a winning 8-5 record. If the first year is any indication, the softball program at NHS will be a well-respected one.

During a break in the action, Michelle Erickson poses for the camera.

TENNIS ANYONE?

Both tennis teams did fairly well during the 1983-84 season. Under excellent leadership the teams learned a great deal, had fun, and brought home their share of victories.

A NEW BEGINNING

After four long years the day the seniors were waiting for finally arrived — May 19, 1984 — their graduation. Although the rain drizzled all evening, it could not dampen the graduates' spirits. Student Speaker Dan Falb traced the past fifteen years of the seniors' schooling. He helped to bring out all the memories that were part of the seniors' past.

Following his speech, Guest Speaker and Senior Class Sponser Tom Kattau presented a thought-provoking and, at times, humorous speech urging the seniors to "be a little farsighted" and "a little nearsighted," to "remember where you came from," and finally, to "Keep in touch."

As the parents of the seniors looked on, the all-important diplomas were awarded and the seniors were declared "graduated." This declaration became the start of a new era in all their lives. High school became a memory and is remembered by many as one of the most joyful and carefree periods of their life. The Yearbook Staff wishes the Class of 1984 the best of luck in the future.

Preparing to speak, Student Speaker Dan Falb looks out over the crowd.

Looking nervous, Tonya Cook receives her Medal of Honor and a handshake from Mr. Snider.

As the school administration looks on, Guest Speaker Tommy Kattau delivers his speech.

WORKING TO KEEP THE JOY OF LIFE ALIVE

When Coachmen enters your life, the quality improves. Since 1964, Coachmen Industries has been a leader in the leisure-time marketplace.

As one of the world's largest recreational vehicle manufacturers, Coachmen markets over 200 models through more than 1,500 dealers. Solid service and dealer-related programs remain our trademarks.

Coachmen housing and realty group provides top-quality manufactured housing that's affordable to more Americans.

We're especially proud to be the nation's largest distributor of RV and mobile home aftermarket parts and accessories, and our parts and supply group also serves the recreational vehicle, automotive and aerial lift industries.

Today, as we expand our commitment to better living, Fortune Magazine recognizes Coachmen on its list of the 1,000 largest-growing corporations in America.
